

Giang's Journey of Gratitude and Growth

Growing up in an ethnic minority farming family in Pleiku, Vietnam, Ksor Giang understood the value of perseverance from an early age. As one of four siblings, including a twin sister, she witnessed firsthand the sacrifices her parents made to provide for their children through hard physical labor.

When both Giang and her twin sister were accepted into university in Da Nang, it was a proud yet challenging moment for the family. With younger siblings still in school, the financial burden was significant. During this time, Giang became a recipient of a L.O.V.E. sponsorship, a blessing that helped ease the pressure on her family and allowed her to continue pursuing her dream.

Today, Giang has graduated from Da Nang University of Medical Technology and Pharmacy and is working as a nurse in a medical clinic. Her twin sister has also completed her studies and now serves as a high school teacher in their hometown. Together, they are able to support their parents and help provide educational opportunities for their younger sisters.

Giang's Graduation Ceremony in 2025

At her current workplace

Most recent family reunion back home

As she continues to build her professional skills and pursue new opportunities in healthcare, Giang hopes her story will encourage current sponsorship recipients to work hard, embrace new experiences, and believe in their potential.

Stories like Giang's are made possible through the generosity of our sponsors. Thank you for investing in the lives of young people and helping create lasting change for families and communities.